THE RIVER PATH.

BY J. G. WHITTIER.

No bird song floated down the hill,
The tangled bank below was still.

No rustic from the birch-bound stem,
No ripple from the water's hem.

The dusk of twilight round us grew,
We felt the falling of the dew;

For from us, ere the day was done,
The wooded hills shut out the sun.

But on the river's farthest side
We saw the hilltop glorified—

A tender glow, exceeding fair,
A dream of day without its glare.

With us the damp, the chill, the gloom,
With them the sunset's rosy bloom;

While dark through willowy vistas seen,
The river rolled in shade between.

From out the darkness where we trod,
We gazed upon the hills of God,

Whose light seemed not of moon or sun;
We spake not, but our thought was one.

We paused, as if from that bright shore
Beckoned our dear ones gone before;

And stayed our beating hearts to hear
The voices lost to mortal ear!

Sudden our pathway turned from night,
The hills swung open to the light;

Thro' their green gates the sunshine showed,
A long, slant splendor downward flowed.

Down glade and glen and bank it rolled,
It bridged the shaded stream with gold;

And borne on piers of mist, allied!
The shadowy with the sunlit slide!

"So," said we, "when our feet draw near
The river dark, with mortal fear,

And the night cometh, chill with dew,
O Father! let Thy light shine through!"

So let the hills of doubt divide,
So bridge with faith the sunless tide!

So let the eyes that fail on earth
On Thy eternal hills look forth;

And in Thy beckoning angels know
The dear ones whom we love below!

SCANDAL.

"Now let it work. Mischief thou art afoot.
Take what course thou wilt."

In a neighboring village whose inhabitants like the good people of Athens, were much given to "either tell or hear some new thing," lived Squire P., a facetious, good natured sort of a body, whose jokes are even yet a matter of Village Record and have been retold through various editions, from folio down to duodecimo.

Aunt Lizzy was Deacon Snipe's wife's sister—a maiden lady of about fifty—she went to all the meetings—kept an account of every birth, death and marriage, with their dates—doctored all the babies and knew every yard in the neighborhood—showed all the young married women how to make soap and when they had bad luck made every child in the house sit cross-legged until the luck changed. In fine, she was a kind of village factotum—spent her time in going from house to house, grinding out scandal to each, as occasion required, but always concluded with the way of the transgressor is hard; "poor Mrs. A. or B. (as the case was) I pity her from the bottom of my heart," or such very smoothing reflection. Aunt Lizzy was always very fond of strangers and others without regard to time or place, the state of their minds; how they enjoyed their mind, &c. These questions were generally followed by a string of scandal, which was calculated to destroy the peace and happiness of some of her best neighbors and friends; but she, like other narrators of this kind, considered such intellectual murder as either establishing her own fair reputation, or as the only mode of entertaining the village, and thereby rendering her society agreeable.

One warm summer's afternoon, as the Squire was sitting near his office door, smoking his pipe, Aunt Lizzy was passing by with great speed, ruminating on the news of the day, when the Squire brought her suddenly, to, as the sailors say, by "what's your hurry, Aunt Lizzy? walk in." The old lady, who never wanted a second invitation, went into the office, and the following dialogue commenced:

"Well, Squire P., I have been thinking this forenoon what a useful man you might be, if you'd only leave off your light conversations, as the good book says, and become a serious man—you might be an ornament to both Church and State, as our minister says."

"Why as to that, Aunt Lizzy a cheerful countenance I consider as the best index of a grateful heart, and you know what the Bible says on that subject—"When ye be not as the hypocrites of a sad countenance; but anoint thy head and wash thy face (Aunt Lizzy began to feel for her pocket handkerchief, for she was a taker of snuff,) that thou appear not unto men to fast."

"Now, then, Squire, that's just what I told you; see how you have the Scripter at your tongue's end; what a useful man you'd be in our church, if you'd only be a doer as well as a hearer of the word."

"As to that, Aunt Lizzy, I don't see that your "professors," as you call them, are a whit better than I am in private. I respect sincere profession as much as any man; I know enough of one of your church, whom you think a great deal of, to know that she is no better than she should be."

At these inuendoes, Aunt Lizzy's black eyes began to twinkle; she sat down beside the Squire, in order to speak in a lower tone—spread her handkerchief over her lap, and began to tap the cover of her snuff box in true style, and all things being in readiness for a regular siege of "scandalum magnatum," she commenced fire—

"Now, Squire, I want to know what you mean by one of our church. I know who you mean, the trollop, I didn't like so many curls about her head when she told her experience."

The squire, finding that curiosity was putting his boots on, had no occasion to add spurs to the heels, for the old lady had one in her head that was worth both of them. Accordingly he had no peace until he consented to explain what he meant by the expression "in private." This was a dear word with Aunt Lizzy.

"Now, Aunt Lizzy, will you take a Bible oath that you will never communicate what I am about to tell you to a living being, and that you will keep it while you live as a most inviolable secret."

"Yes, Squire, I declare I won't never tell nobody nothing about it as long as I breathe the breath of life; and I'll take a Bible oath on it; there, sartain as I live, Squire, before you or any other magistrate in the whole country."

"Well, then, you know when I went up to Boston a year a go?"

"Yes, yes, Squire, and I know who went with you, too—Susey B. and Dolly T. and her sister Prudence."

"Never mind who went with me Aunt Lizzy; there was a whole lot of passengers—but, but,"

"None of your buts, Squire, out with it; it folks will act so—a trollop."

"But Aunt Lizzy, I'm afraid you will bring me into the scrape."

"I've told you over and over again that nobody never shall know anything about it and your wife knows that I ain't leaky."

"My wife! I wouldn't have her know what I am going to say for the world; why, Aunt Lizzy, if she should know it—"

"Well don't be afraid Squire, once all, I'll take my oath that no livin' crittur shan't never as long as I live, know a lisp ou't."

"Well then—if you must know it—I slept with one of the likeliest of your church members nearly half the way up!"

Aunt Lizzy drew in a long breath—shut up her snuff box, and put it in her pocket, muttering to herself—

"The likeliest of our church members—I thought it was Susey B. Likeliest!—this comes of being flattered—a trollop. Well, one thing I know—the way of the transgressor is hard; but I hope you'll never tell nobody on't, Squire; for sartain as the world if sich a thing should be known, our church would be scattered abroad, like sheep without a shepherd."

In a few moments Aunt Lizzy took her departure, giving the Squire another caution, and a sly wink as she said good bye—let me alone for a secret.

It was not many days before Squire P. received a very polite note from Parson G. requesting him to attend a meeting of the church, and many of the parish, at South Conference room, in order to settle some difficulties with one of the church members, who in order to clear up her character, requested Squire P. to be present.

The Parson, who was a worthy man, knew the frailty of some of the weak sisters, as Aunt Lizzy called them, and as he was a particular friend of Squire P's, requesting him in his note to say nothing of it to his wife. But the Squire took the hint, and telling his wife that there was a parish meeting, requested her to be ready at two o'clock, and he would call for her.

Accordingly the hour of meeting came—the whole village flocked to the room, which could not hold half of them. All eyes were alternately on the Squire and Susey B. Mrs. P. started, and Susey looked as though she had been crying for a fortnight. The Parson with a softened tone, and in as delicate a manner as possible, stated the story about Susey B. which he observed was in everybody's mouth, and which he did not himself believe a word of—and Squire P. being called on the stand as witness—after painting in lively colors the evils of slander, with which their village had been infested and particularly the church, called on Aunt Lizzy in presence of the meeting, and before the church, to come out and make acknowledgement for violating a bible oath! Aunt Lizzy's apology was, that she only told Deacon Snipe's wife on't—and she took an oath, that she wouldn't never tell nobody else on't. Deacon Snipe's wife had, it appears sworn Roger Toothaker's sister never to tell nobody on't—and so it went through the whole church, and thence through the village.

The Squire then acknowledged before the whole meeting, that he had as he told Aunt Lizzy, slept with a church member half the way up to Boston, and that he believed her to be one of the likeliest members inasmuch as she never would hear or retail SLANDER. All eyes were alternately on Susey B. and Squire P.'s wife—Aunt Lizzie enjoyed a kind of diabolical triumph, which the Squire no sooner perceived than he finished his sentence by declaring that the church member to whom he alluded, was his own lawful wife.

Aunt Lizzy drew in her head under a huge bonnet, as a turtle does under his shell, and marched away into one corner of the room, like a dog that has been killing sheep. The Squire, as usual, burst out into a fit of laughter, from which his wife, Susey B. and even the Parson could not help joining—and Parson G. afterwards acknowledged that Squire P. had given a death blow to scandal in the village, which all his preaching could not have done.

Perilous Balloon Voyage Across Lake Erie.

An exchange informs us that an aeronaut named Thompson, who ascended recently from Toronto, descended safely near this city, the balloon having been taken by a strong upper current across the lakes. Much anxiety was felt in Toronto as to Thompson's fate before the telegram arrived announcing his safe landing. Mr. Thompson gives the following account of his adventure:

"The balloon ascended at 4 40, and from the velocity the balloon was travelling at, I soon perceived it was foolish to try to decend. It soon became evident to me that landing in Canada was out of the question, and that all arrangements must be made to be driven across the lakes. The first thing that struck me was to drop the grapnel to the full extent—120 feet. This acted as a guide to the distance the balloon might be kept above the surface of the water; it being now dark, and, by placing one hand on the rope, the effect of the grapnel striking the water was distinctly felt. With an open bag of ballast on my knee, every time the grapnel struck the water, a couple of handfulls of sand were thrown out—and to this plan alone I owe my preservation and success.

"The ballast taken was about three hundred and fifty pounds. For three hours that plan was carried out, and them came on one of the most drenching and merciless rains I have ever felt. I could not see fifteen feet before me, and the noise of the rain on the ballon and the water was such as to entirely unnerve me. My hands became numb, and I was drenched to the skin. I now began to perceive my position more acutely, though I determined not to give up until all the ballast and movables were gone. The rain was making the balloon heavier every moment, till about ten o'clock, when the fatigue overcame me. I fell into a stupor for a few moments. By time the balloon had descended to within six feet of water, and instantly out went twenty eight pounds of ballast. The effect of this was that the balloon rose to an altitude of a mile, entire through the rain clouds, and then the moon shone brilliantly, and in this position it remained about a quarter of an hour. The effect of the moon shining on the cloud beneath was such as any artist might be proud of. The shadow of the balloon was distinctly to be seen travelling over the rough and uneven clouds, giving the idea of a balloon race. Everything now became calm. No longer the hum of the lake or the rain. All was still, but whether the storm still raged beneath was unknown. As the balloon descended, it was evident a change had come over the scene. The rain had ceased, and the appearance of everything was of the darkest hue; whether it was an under stratum of dark clouds could not be known. Suddenly a glimmer of light was seen for a moment; then, with anxious eyes cast down to perceive any object, at last small squares with darker margins were clearly visible. These proved to be the fields, and hedges, and they appeared to vanish as quickly as objects passed when in an express train. A town was at last seen, and I heard the sound of musical instruments. I then called out to know where I was, but the reply was unintelligible. They, however, saw it was a balloon. About two miles further on the grapnel caught in a large oak tree, and held fast. This afterwards proved to be a little village near Cleveland. I then called out lustily; the sounds of persons singing and playing music were heard. These proved to be four young men who had been to a ball. They were natives of Cleveland, and as they advanced nearer my voice was heard. They at once set to work to pull the balloon out of the woods and convey it to a field, where it could be folded up. It was then 3 o'clock in the morning."

Inquisitive little Miss.—Ma, if I were to die and go to heaven, should I wear my Moire Antique dress.

Aristocratic Ma.—No, my love; we can scarcely suppose that we shall wear the attire of this world in the next.

Inquisitive little Miss.—Then tell me, ma, how would the Lord know I belonged to the best society?

A TAPE-WORM SIX HUNDRED FEET IN LENGTH.—We have sometimes read accounts of tape-worms several feet and sometimes yards in length, being taken from individuals, but if we had ever seen it averred that one had been taken complete and entire two hundred yards in length, unless we had received very liberal pay for crediting it, we should have declined. Dr. Gunn records it as an extraordinary fact that he had seen one a hundred feet in length, and we believe it has not generally been conceded by medical authorities that the creature ever reaches a greater length, or that it is possible to remove such an one entire and undecomposed. But be that as it may, we yesterday saw one in the office of Drs. Head and Dahlman, of the species technically known as Tenia Lata, which is believed to measure fully two hundred yards in length. Dr. Dahlman informed us that he had measured 150 lengths of the table before him (about three feet long) with fully one-fourth of the varmint still in the bottle. It looks very much like a piece of white tape from one sixth to one-fourth of an inch in width, narrowest at the extremities. It was taken from a son of Mr. Jacob Straub, some 16 years ago, living two or three miles from town. Drs. Head and Dahlman were two hours in taking the worm from him. The boy was very much emaciated, having been wasting away for a year or more, but is now doing well. The operation was performed last Saturday. This remarkable worm will be subjected to scientific analysis, and placed in some medical museum. It will be an object of great interest and curiosity to the medical fraternity.—Carlinsville [Ill.] Democrat.

STREET CAR INCIDENT.—The street car is the witness of varied life and incident, which are often not only interesting, but worthy of the compliment of a little printer's ink. An incident occurred in a neighboring city the other day which is deserving of a paragraph. A lady passenger discovered that her pocket had been picked of its portmonaie and contents, including a generous supply of cash for shopping, and some other pleasant possessions. On learning this disagreeable fact she said, with commendable emphasis:—"Mr. Conductor, I have had my pocket picked since I entered this car, and as no one got out, the thief must now be here. I want you to call a policeman at once and secure my property." The conductor declined to do this, and the lady insisted. A sharp altercation took place, in the midst of which a short lady, with a keen, jumping eye, and with a brisk movement, almost leaped from her seat, and said very sharply, "I declare it is really too bad that the conductor will not call the police. If there is no gentleman in the car man enough to do as the lady wishes, then I will." She thereupon made a rapid exit from the car, and shot down street like an arrow. She was the pickpocket!

PNEUMATIC CONVEYANCE.—The success of the last pneumatic undertaking in London, by which the mails and small parcels are shot from point to point with great rapidity and at little cost, has induced the people of New York to consider the expediency of adopting it. A company has, however, been formed in New Jersey, which is about to create an experimental line between Newark and Jersey City, and so anticipate the Gothamites. Their plan contemplates a wooden tube three feet in diameter, either elevated or resting on the ground, through which cars will be driven at the rate of one hundred mile an hour, under an American patent. The tube will cost about $10,000 per mile. Should the undertaking work as well in this country as it does in Europe, and accomplish the expectations of its promoters, it may very well be that the invention will be applied in other cities and extended to other uses, so that compressed air will come to be a rival agent to steam and heat and water power. We can see many advantages, should the theory prove practically advantageous and feasible.

THE IDLER CAUGHT NAPPING.—An idle fellow chanced, on a hot summer's day, to seat himself on the tempting smooth surface of a resting-place that was near at hand, which happened to be a half-barrel of pitch; and finding his seat easy and yielding like a cushion, he gave himself no trouble in thinking of the consequence, but soon fell fast asleep; when the pitch, by the natural heat of his body, gently yielded to the pressure, and he presently sunk into it so deep that it flowed around him. When he awoke from his nap, he found himself thus so closely encircled and embraced by the mass of pitch, that he was totally unable to extricate himself, and must have perished had not his friends helped to dig him out of his imprisonment.

APPLICATION.—The example this fable offers is addressed to the young and thoughtless, and seems a good representation of the many alluring snares to which such persons are more especially exposed; for, as the old proverb says, "all is not gold that glitters;" and those customs which at first may appear both pleasant and harmless, become at last our tyrants and destroyers.

Among the other items to be charged to the Radical management, says the Chicago Times, are the deaths of military men from yellow fever in the Southern States. All these men were sent there solely and purely to register negroes for the coming Presidential election. Over the graves of such men as Griffin should be inscribed, "Fell a victim to the Radical desire to elect a President in 1868."

A shrewd villian in Nashua, N. H. on Thursday, walked deliberately up to a store window and broke in a pane of French glass, and when asked to pay for it as deliberately drew out a $100 bill, which the shopkeeper took, giving him $70 in change. The bill proved to be counterfeit.

A FRETFUL WIFE.—A woman may be of great assistance to her husband in business by wearing a cheerful smile continually upon her countenance. A man's perplexities and gloominess are increased a hundred fold when his better half moves about with a continual scowl upon her brow. A pleasant, cheerful wife is as a rainbow set in the sky when her husband's mind is tossed with storms and tempests; but a dissatisfied and fretful wife, in the hour of trouble, is like one of those fiends who are appointed to torture lost spirits.

The Globe.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Wednesday morning, Oct. 23, 1867.

WM. LEWIS, HUGH LINDSAY, } Editors.

☞The publication of Forney's Sunday Press has been discontinued.

☞The Chambersburg Repository, a Republican paper, has hoisted the name of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant for President.

☞They have had another election in California, in which the Democrats were again successful, but by a reduced majority.

☞The last Ohio Legislature gave the Radicals a majority of 46 on joint ballot—13 in the Senate and 33 in the House. Now the Anti-Radicals have 10 majority on joint ballot—3 in the Senate and 7 in the House.

☞There is a general clamor for the Crawford County system. We say let it come. We would be the last one to put our veto on it. We repeat, let it come in all parties, and the voters will have a choice in making candidates.

☞The jubilant Democratic victory demonstrations—in the way of variety they will do, but we cannot see any point in them. The Democracy should remember that it is possible for them to overdose emergency friends—a help for a special purpose.

☞A system of railroad reforms has just been agreed upon by representative men from various railway and transportation companies in New Jersey. The fare is to be two cents per mile, and no further attempts are to be made to control the action of the State Legislature.

☞Gen. Schofield said in a speech in Richmond that the people of Ohio declared by their votes that Congress has no right to impose negro suffrage upon them. What the people said in Ohio they have said in every other State where the issue was made plain enough to be understood.

☞The following is from the Bedford Inquirer, a Republican paper: "The Republican Party has been carrying too much dead weight and we call upon our cotemporaries to assist us in ignoring it. We have been the tools of a few men much too long." You have told the truth, but we think you are now just seeing it as others saw it.

THE RESULT IN THIS STATE.—The official vote of the State for Supreme Judge as received at the Secretary of State office at Harrisburg makes Sharswood's majority over Williams 922. The entire falling off of the vote in the State from last year is 62,800, of which 40,450 votes were Republicans and 22,350 Democratic.

☞"It is the universal conviction of good Republicans that we must have a thorough regeneration—a weeding-out of the elements which have brought only weakness and defeat.—Philadelphia Morning Post.

An honest confession from an honest Republican paper, after the election. Will there be "a thorough regeneration—a weeding-out of the elements which have brought only weakness and defeat?" We shall see.

☞The Republicans of North Carolina have nominated two white men and one negro for the Convention. The negroes are dissatisfied because there are not two of their color on the ticket. Can the Republicans not see by this that if they would have the negroes to vote that they would also hold office? One is an absolute consequence of the other; and we think they had better see it before it gets too late.

☞In the tenth Congressional district of Ohio, which is represented by Mr. J. M. Ashley, the member who brought in articles of impeachment against the President, the Republicans lost this year 2041 votes, giving the Democrats a majority of 124 in the district. This most conclusively shows that the people do not want any such men as Ashley to represent them any longer.

☞It is being asserted in the Republican press generally that the election of McIntyre and Shugert will be contested, alleging that sufficient evidence of fraud has been obtained to give McVitty and Robinson their seats. If McIntyre and Shugert have been elected by illegal votes they should not have seats in the Senate, but until we have the evidence we look upon the "noise and confusion" about it as a lot down in the defeat. One party can do as well as the other in illegal voting and we have no doubt both parties voted at least a few questionable votes.

☞A Mr. Ordway made a speech to a radical meeting, black and white, in Richmond last week, in which he said: —"He believed that Congress had the power, under the Constitution, to confer the right of suffrage on any man it chose in any State, and the result of the vote in Ohio and Pennsylvania would be nullified by its action at the next session." Radicals generally believe and teach the same stuff. If Congress should attempt to override the expressed will of the people by the passage of the Sumner negro suffrage bill, there will be a time. The free people of the North will not submit.

☞A Philadelphia paper says the professions in that city are overflooded, and we believe it. Not only in the city but universally is it the case that many of our young men study for professions, thinking it disreputable to enter into some mechanical occupation. In such a view our young men could not be more deceived or mistaken. A young man who devotes his talents upon some profession at the present day is burying them, while he who chooses some mechanical occupation and makes use of his talents in that direction, has a far greater opportunity of being rewarded pecuniarily, and of being consoled with the encouraging belief that his services are appreciated, which is seldom the case amongst those who follow a profession. Parents should instil into their children this principle, and have them not suffer in after years for a want of means and competence.

☞The signs of the political times cannot be misunderstood—the radical leaders of the Republican party, and the copperhead leaders of the Democratic party, have been on trial before the people and have been condemned. A Republican or Union party cannot hope to succeed in the Presidential contest with such men as Stevens, Wade, Sumner, Forney, etc., as leaders, and their radicalism as a platform. Neither can the Democracy go into the contest with any hopes of success with the Vallandighams, Buchanans, or Biglers as leaders, unless they have as an opposition the present radical organization. The Union masses of the whole country are tired being drilled by unprincipled and reckless politicians. Conservative Republicans and war Democrats must again reorganize, cut loose from Radicalism, and save the Union.

GRANT AND THE RADICALS.—Since the late elections Gen. Grant has been nominated for the Presidency by several Republican meetings held in this State. The negro political equality Republicans stand off from the General—they say that defeat of their principles would be more honorable than victory with a man who is not with them. Phillips, Stevens, Greely, Wade, Sumner, Forney, and all such, down to the editors of the Journal & American, are opposed to Grant as their candidate. They will not favor any candidate who is not on record in favor of radicalism. We hope to see the anti-Radicals successful,—they shall have our little aid all the time.

GEN. GRANT'S VIEWS.—A Washington despatch to the Pittsburg Commercial, dated Oct. 19, says:—

"The movement made throughout the country to nominate General Grant for the Presidency, has developed itself in Washington in the presence of a strong pressure made upon him for a letter clearly defining his views on the pending important national questions. Such of his friends as are urging and waiting the publication of a letter are confident that one will be forthcoming before the November elections."

☞Gen. Grant, to-day, is the most popular man named to succeed President Johnson, and he will continue so if he avoids political association with radicals and radicalism. He can be the "coming man."

A New York letter, dated the 15th, says: The question in the dry goods market has been quite marked within the day or two past. The prices of some descriptions are down to figures current before the war, and from present appearance, bottom is not yet reached. For instance, New York Mills muslin is selling at 27½c, and Wamsutta at 25c; other good makes are as low as 12@15c. Domestic woolens are experiencing a corresponding decline. Foreign fabrics have the prevailing decline. The importers are throwing large quantities into the auction rooms, where they are disposed of only at low prices. The carpet and boot and shoe dealers generally report a moderate trade, at unchanged prices The great bulk of the business is over for the season, though orders, to some extent, are expected till November. The hardware jobbers and manufacturers complain of stagnation in their departments. They are looking for a late trade from the Gulf States, but from the West the indications are not so favorable as have been anticipated.

The men who wear the green are still a cause of great uneasiness to England. Disturbances occur from time to time in all parts of the kingdom, and the anxiety with which they are constantly anticipated reveals the general alarm which everywhere exists.

Pekin, China, has discovered a petroleum-bearing region three hundred miles square near by, and proposes to have the oil fever.

The Elections.

Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, which has withdrawn from party politics, takes the following independent view of the unexpected defeat of the Republicans:

"Such startling facts as the overthrow of 40,000 Republican majority in Ohio, and 20,000 majority in Pennsylvania, have a deeper meaning than mere politicians comprehend. The Democratic party, which had been thought dead; which had been wrapped in its grave clothes, and consigned to an eternal burial, has come forth like Lazarus from the tomb. No ghost could startle more than this reality. A year ago there was no theme more popular with Republican journals than the hopeless weakness of their opponents; they proclaimed that Democracy had been put down with the rebellion, and would not rise again until a new rebellion was attempted. The Republican triumph was assumed to be perpetual. A new politicla dynasty had been established, destined to rule for the next twenty years. Many of the Republican leaders made their arrangements for a long succession of Presidents. But the successful party did not fully consider the manner in which it was created. Its irresistible strength came from the war. During the rebellion the Republican banner bore the American motto—"The war for the Union"—and was not so much opposed to the Democratic party proper as to that wing which sympathized with the rebellion. Representing the principle that the Union should be maintained, even if we fought ten years, nothing was easier than to defeat Vallandigham by 100,000 majority in Ohio; nothing more natural than that it should carry every Northern State. But with the war ended, that overwhelming advantage.

Success has always its evils. Power has always its weakness. Just as the Democratic party during the war suffered from the patronage of men whose ideas were altogether anti-American, the Republican party has been injured by men who undertook to manage it for the benefit of their selfish ambitions. To all the political adventurers in the country the great party appeared a mine of inexhaustible richness. They beheld it at their feet as the Jews looked upon Canaan, or Cortez upon Mexico. To be nominated on the Republican ticket was equivalent to an election; to be elected was to secure influence which would endure for years. There was the fabled El Dorado, the apples of gold and the water of life, waiting for the strong hand, and the fearless heart. As the eagles swoop down upon their prey, as the gamblers gather around the rich young heir, the adventurers came down upon the Republican party. They snatched at the spoils of office, and before long began to quarrel over the division. There is scarcely a State in which the last year has not seen a dispute over party nominations, and the party everywhere has been agitated by the Presidential rivalries. Armies have been beaten by the dissensions of their generals, and this is not the first time in the political history of the United States that a party, flushed with victory, has suddenly found itself defeated by an enemy it despised. Whatever may be the strength of the Democracy, it is certain that they have carried many districts which properly belong to their opponents. It is probable that in such cases many Republicans preferred the defeat of their party to the election of adventures to office.

The Incendiary Hunnicutt.

The other day Hunnicutt, the self-constituted leader of the Radical party in Virginia, proclaimed a wholesale emigration from Africa to America, as well as a return of the fugitives in Canada who escaped from slavery and of the suffering emigrants now in Hayti and Liberia. "Yes," he exclaimed, "we would overturn Africa right into America, if necessary, and those thick-lipped, flat nosed, woolly haired people that now swarm those sunny shores should be brought here as Irishmen from Ireland, and in the same time be fitted just as well for the responsibilities of citizenship." But Hunnicutt is not content with hoping to secure, by their help, the domination of his party and the Africanization of the South and the entire country. In the absence of General Schofield at Washington he has ventured to invoke other instrumentalities for the consummation of his purpose. In a speech to the negroes in Charles City he told them that they had nothing to fear if a war of races should arise. Reviewing the results of registration in each of the southern States, he showed the negroes their physical preponderance in the Gulf States and South Carolina. He said he had no report of the relative strength of the two races in North Carolina, but in Virginia the white majority is only thirteen thousand, and he and his set, numbering twenty-five thousand, were bound to make common cause with them. His own words best express the incendiary spirit with which he would fain fire their hearts. "You have," said he, "no property. The white race own houses and lands. Some of you are old and feeble and cannot carry a musket, but can apply the torch to the dwellings of your enemies." If those who sent Hunnicutt to Virginia cannot be induced by humanity to silence such wicked and dangerous utterances, it is still difficult to suppose that they and he can remain utterly indifferent to the warnings given at the recent elections in Pennsylvania and Ohio.—New York Herald.

Bayard Taylor, during his summer trip to Colorado, had an electrical visitation which he describes as follows: "I experienced three distinct electric shocks, probably from the fact that I was insolated by the India-rubber cloth upon which I lay, and then touched the earth with my hand. On the snowy ranges, persons are sometimes so charged that there are sparks and crackling sounds at every movement of their bodies. Men acquainted with the phenomenon imagine that bees have gotten into their hair, and that rattlesnakes are at at their heels. Many strange stories are told of the effect of the fluid, which seems to manifest itself in an eccentric but not dangerous form."

The grand Hotel in Paris is advertised for sale at $11,000,000.

[From the N. Y. Times.]

The Blacks and Whites.

It really is a wonder that this country existed so long as it did, without the direct aid and encouragement of black voters. It seems to be a well authorized historical fact that the Republic did get on quite comfortably for something like eighty years, while the blacks not only did not fight our battles nor control our elections. It is true there were a good many things that were not exactly as they should have been, but nevertheless the country prospered; the crops were good; the liberties of the people were protected; we went through one war with Great Britain and another with Mexico very creditably; commerce flourished; taxation was light; we paid our national debt; foreign nations envied us, and we, in turn, for the sake of keeping up good fellowship, despised them—and on the whole we got along very comfortably; and in all this we had no help from the blacks but, on the contrary, devoted a great deal of our time to abusing them and whipping them and keeping them in slavery.

But now we are told that but for the negro we should go forthwith to eternal smash. The Tribune tells us that but for the black soldiers in our armies the Rebellion would have triumphed. Our Union was saved from utter destruction only by the invincible arm of the enfranchised slaves. The whites proved utterly unequal to the task. And nothing but black votes can save the Republican party from overthrow and the Union from ruin.

Possibly all this is true; but we cannot say its truth has ever been made quite clear to us. We honor the blacks for what they did contribute to the success of the Union arms, but we cannot forget that they also lent a good deal of strength to the Confederate force. We believe it is true that no negro ever betrayed a Union man; but we are not aware that the negroes ever betrayed a Rebel soldier. Treachery is not among the sins of the negro character; they are generally faithful to the side they happen to be with. And while we would have their merits and services fully acknowledged and rewarded, we are a little tired of hearing all the credit given to them for the defeat of the Rebellion and the salvation of the Union. One reason, perhaps, of our weariness is, that we don't believe it all belongs to them. We cannot help thinking that some of it belong to the white soldiers also.

"If the blacks are not enfranchised," says the Tribune, "Vallandigham can beat General Grant for President." The Tribune evidently would not shed many tears over that result. But it is mistaken. Principle still counts for something among our white voters. Vallandigham did not carry Ohio when he ran for Governor two years ago, and yet the blacks of that State were not "enfranchised." White votes will still tell—and on the side of the Union, too, in spite of the Tribune's croakings.

☞The death of Elias Howe, inventor of the sewing machine, takes away another of the world-famed Americans who have benefited their country and mankind by practical inventions of incalculable utility and value. The sewing machine plays such a great part now in the economy of business and in domestic economy, that it seems increditable when we read how recently its inventor was struggling to introduce it to the public favor, and how very recently he began to receive any recognition of the services he had rendered mankind—which services will produce perpetual fruits throughout the world. Though he labored long amid poverty and discouragement, without recompense or recognition, he obtained his reward at last. Fortune lavished her favors upon him; his name became a household word in families; and recently, in presence, as it were of the assemblaged world, he was signalized as one of the benefactors of mankind.

The newest report about Mrs. Lincoln is that her agent, Mr. Brady, has been instructed to open a subscription for her benefit, instead of selling her wardrobe, jewelry, etc., at auction. The letter to that effect deprecates so much publicity, but reminds all whom it may concern, that, had her husband lived, her support would not have been taken away from her. Mrs. Lincoln also expresses the conviction that she has friends enough in the community to contribute sufficient to enable her to live in a style becoming her previous position. She says all that she wants is an income large enough to enable her to travel from place to place and carry a maid with her. The subscription list is now open at 609 Broadway. Newspaper reporters are standing ready to copy the names as they come along.

THE DOWNFALL OF THE POPE.—The news from Europe leaves little room to doubt that the temporal power of the Pope has come to a sudden end, and that Rome is at last virtually the capital of Italy. The Pontifical army and the revolutionists have had two severe engagements in the southeastern portion of the Papal States, and the revolutionists have triumphed in both. The revolutionists are under the lead of Menotti Garibaldi, a son of the great General. Their scattered forces are now united, and after these decisive victories the possession of Rome itself can hardly be matter of doubt. Garibaldi calls the whole nation to arms, while Mazzini urges the people to proclaim a republic. These are startling events, and their influence upon the peace of Europe it is difficult to foretell.

IN Germany, some of the railways are now constructed without wood. The rail is made about nine inches high, with a broad flat base, which rests on a well-prepared bed of ballast, and when properly placed is further supported by a layer of gravel. Thus constructed, the jerky motion of a train, occasioned by numerous sleepers, is done away with; the hammering sound becomes a steady, continuous roar, the longitudinal bearing is distributed over a greater distance, and the need for repairs occurs but rarely.

Of all the coal produced in the United States, Pennsylvania furnishes seventy-three and three-quarters per cent. Her mines are exhaustless and their product is annually increasing.

Life insurance companies are likely to have an opportunity for industry for some time to come. Of the 36,000,000 people in the United States on the first of January, 1867, only 344,822 held life insurance policies, or less than one in a hundred.

The diameter of the earth multiplied by 108 gives the diameter of the sun; the diameter of the sun multipled by 108 gives the mean distance of the earth from the sun; and the diameter of the moon multiplied by 108 gives the mean distance of the moon from the earth.

Visitors to Paris two or three years ago were surprised to see the beautiful young widow, the Duchess de Morny, wearing her hair short and curled, in the style of the "Mazeppa" actresses, and in violation of fashion's decrees. But the Duchess did not do this as a matter of choice. When her husband died, she was forced by the approved Russian mode of expressing widowed grief, to cut off her luxuriant blonde tresses and bury them in her husband's coffin.

In Peru the women do all the work and the men are a good for nothing set of gamblers and thieves. The women ride on the hind quarters of their horses, without a saddle, cross legged, with the load on the horse in front. They mount the animal by taking hold of his long tail, making a loop by doubling it up, and clasping with one hand the upper and lower parts of the tail, then, putting one foot in the loop and the other foot on the joint of the horse's leg, they ascend as if going up stairs. They usually stand erect on the horse before sitting down. The horses never kick nor stir.

While Rev. S. Ballard was delivering a temperance lecture in Grand Haven, Mich., the other night, and was depicting in his graphic style the condition of delirium tremens in the "rum maniac," an old lady became so influenced by her imagination, wrought upon by the orator, that when he was describing the sensation of reptiles crawling up from below, she arose from her seat, walked up to the table, and looked over for the purpose of seeing the snakes. This completely upset the gravity of the meeting, and it was some time before the speaker could go on.

A remarkable phenomenon was witnessed in Milan, Mo., says the Herald, of that place, of the 27th ult., on the afternoon of the 20th: "About the middle of the afternoon the air was suddenly filled with thousands of butterflies! Butterflies behind us, in front of us, above us, and under us—butterflies everywhere. The 'oldest inhabitant' has never witnessed anything of the kind before. The bedizoned beauties were travelling in a southwesterly direction, and were fully an hour in passing a given point. Here is a matter for some of our savans to investigate.

Brief Items.

—How early it gets late now-a days.

—The Mifflintown Register and True Democrat have been consolidated.

—A man named Wash. Isetts was placed in the Hollidaysburg jail, on the charge of committing a rape on Mrs. Lovina Wilt, of Allegheny township.

—Willie, a son of the late Dr. Joseph Henderson, of Lewistown, came very near losing his life from the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of his brother.

—The painters of Altoona have formed an association for the purpose of creating a fund for the maintenance of members in case of sickness, or other disability.

—Some of our exchanges come to us full of cuts of negroes, eagles, roosters, cannons, &c. A friend wonders whether they will supply the place of the child's picture book.

—It is said that chignons, commonly known as waterfalls, were worn by the ladies over one hundred years ago. Adorable misses, just think of this, and imagine how your grandmothers must have looked.

—We notice that several of our contemporaries express not a little sarcasm and disgust with county fairs, just because they didn't get a "pass." What a pity they charge ten cents a line for a local notice, when they can afford to devote half a column to uncalled for abuse?

—We heard a Republican allege last week, that the cause of their defeat was in the fact that there was a heavy crop of buckwheat, which had to be taken in on election day. This excuse, (which is better than none,) gave a Democrat cause to hope that there would be plenty of buckwheat next year.

—The Altoona Tribune makes mention of a bet which was made at that place between two stiff partisans—one a Republican and the other a Democrat. The bet being made on the Supreme Judge, the Republican lost, and was obliged, according to a previous wager, to wheel the Democrat on a wheelbarrow from the Logan House to his home. This he did much to the amusement of the bystanders.

—Saturday night last, the large steam tannery at Nossville, this county, was destroyed by fire. Buildings, hides, leather and everything, save 200 cords of bark, was consumed. The tannery was recently purchased from Mr. Wm. Schollenberger, of Philadelphia, by Mr. Rees, of New York city. The origin of the fire is unknown.—Loss not ascertained.—Herald.

—A brace of counterfeiters visited Johnstown on Saturday last and passed counterfeit tens on the First National Bank of Philadelphia on several saloon proprietors and other citizens, in all amounting to about $200. They took the evening train for Pittsburgh, but a telegraphic despatch followed them and they were taken into custody upon reaching that city. They will get their deserts.

—We have received No. 1 of Vol. 1, of the Mt. Union Herald. It presents the same "phiz" that the Times did before it was printed at Altoona. The Herald is edited, published and "proprietored" by Mr. William P. McLaughlin, and is to be Democratic. We hope it will herald full news from the lower end; but we cannot see how a second Democratic paper in this county is to live and let live. Somebody must suffer a loss.

—We find the following in a Hollidaysburg paper: All parties desiring an attachment with the main water pipe will please call or leave their names at the establishment of B & B. They are getting up a revised list, and those who come first will be served first." Now, what person would for a moment think of making an attachment to a dumb water pipe. The idea is absolutely absurd. We hope to hear of the ladies treating such an offer with disdain.

Handkerchief Flirtation.

It is a common practice amongst many young ladies to flirt their cambrics to young men who are on the street. We have been satisfied that these "flirtings" meant something, and in an exchange we find the following solution to the mystery, and publish it, that those living in ignorance may be thoroughly booked up and able to read the sign thus given:

Drawing across the lips—desirous of getting acquainted; drawing across the eyes—I am sorry; dropping—we will be friends; twirling in both hands—indifference; drawing across the cheek—I love you; drawing through the hands—I hate you; letting it rest on the right cheek—yes; letting it rest on the left cheek—no; twirling in left hand—I wish to get rid of you; twirling in right hand—I love another; folding it—I wish to speak with you; over the shoulder—follow me; opposite corners in both hands—wait for me; drawing across the forehead—we are watched; taking by the centre—you are too willing; placing on right ear—you have changed; placing on left ear—I have a message for you; letting it remain on the eye—you are cruel; winding round the forefinger—I am engaged; winding round the third finger—I am married.

Death of John Moore, Esq.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. John Moore, which occurred at his residence, on Washington street, yesterday. Mr. Moore was a well know and esteemed citizen of Titusville, especially to the old residents. He was a native of Huntingdon county in this State, and passed his life mostly in Newark, Ohio, and in Pittsburgh, in the practice of the medical profession. In the summer of 1857, Dr. Moore removed to this place and married a member of the Titus family, a sister of Mrs. Joseph L. Chase, since which time Mr. Moore has occupied himself with the charge of a large property, enhanced in value by the sudden growth of this place and the oil excitement. Soon after, Mr. Moore removed with his family to Pittsburgh, and subsequently to Philadelphia. About a month since he returned to this place, intending to make his future home, and purchased a residence, with that view. His health had been failing for a year past, and ever since his return he has been confined to his house. His disease, the quick consumption, could not be arrested, and he sank rapidly until he expired. Dr. Moore leaves a wife, two daughters and one son. The latter is in the United States Navy and at present in China. Mr. Moore lost two sons in the late war. Mr. Moore was a kind hearted gentleman of superior intelligence and probity of character. Mr. Moore was a member of Masonic fraternity, being connected with a Lodge and a Chapter in Newark, Ohio, and his remains will be conveyed to Huntingdon, in this State, under the auspices of that Order Religious services will be held at his late residence at precisely half past ten o'clock this (Friday) morning.—From the Titusville (Crawford co.) Herald, Oct 18.

The remains of Bro. M. arrived here on Saturday night, and on Sunday afternoon they were interred in the Cemetery grounds with Masonic honors by the brethren of this place. The deceased was much respected in this place, which fact was attested by the large concourse of citizens who attended his remains to their last resting place.

Funeral of Dr. Bower.

The funeral of Dr. Charles Bower, whose death we announced last Saturday, took place on Sunday. The remains of the deceased, accompanied by his family and several personal friends, left here for Newton Hamilton at half past seven o'clock in the morning, in a car set apart for that special purpose. At Lewistown and M'Veytown large delegations of Free Masons, of which order the deceased had long been a member, joined the funeral party. The two lodges comprised about fifty members, wearing the badge usual on such occasions. On the arrival of the train at Newton Hamilton large crowds of people were waiting to participate in the funeral services. A procession was formed and proceeded to the Presbyterian church, where the religious exercises took place. In the absence of the pastor of the congregation, Rev. Mr. Hartsock, of Mount Union officiated, and preached a discourse appropriate to the occasion. At the close of these solemn exercises the remains of the deceased were exposed to public view, and fully two thousand people passed through the church to take a last look at the features of one whom they had long esteemed for his social virtues and honored for his professional skill. The burial services were then proceeded with according to the usages of the Masonic fraternity. The ceremonies were very solemn and impressive, and the thousands of spectators present seemed to be deeply affected. The family of the deceased, with the escort from this city, returned home at nine o'clock on Sunday evening.

Dr. Bower, during his residence in this city, gained very many warm personal friends, and established a reputation for skill in his profession which brought him an extensive practice. He was a kind hearted and liberal man, in whom the poor always found a friend, ready to give them medical attendance without charge for his services. The family of the deceased have the sympathies of the entire community in the affliction which has deprived them of a kind and indulgent husband and father.—Patriot & Union.

Good Roads.

With the sparsely settled country in some sections, and in the absence of regularly laid out roads, it is hardly to be supposed that the labor necessary to make good roads can be bestowed upon them; but in older and more thickly settled sections of the country, where roads are regularly laid out, there is no possible excuse for the terrible condition the roads are often found in. There is nothing that strikes a stranger more unpleasantly than the bad roads to be met with, and it is often the one cause that makes him seek other localities where roads are better. The loss of time spent in getting out of the mire, the breaking of vehicles and harness, the often irreparable injury to the noble horses, all put together, would go far to build good roads in every neighborhood, besides the increased comfort that would be imparted in a trip over the country.

Port Wine.

There have been, at times, articles introduced to the public under the name of Port wine, strongly recommended for medicinal purposes, which are calculated to do more harm than good, having little else than the name to recommend them. Such, however, is not the case with the Port Grape Wine, advertised by Mr. A. Speer, of Passaic, New Jersey. We have seen his vineyard, and the wine in process of manufacture, and know it to be the pure juice of the grape.

We have also been through his cellars, which never contain less than sixty thousand gallons, and seen casks upon casks maturing. Mr. Speer does not bottle or sell any under four years of age.—Peoria Transcript.

The above can be had of our druggists.

☞It is not true that Johnston and Wattson have closed up their cheap Store at the head of Hill street, and gone up salt river. We paid a visit to their establishment yesterday, and found their store room literally jammed with new goods, of all kinds, and of the very best quality, with prices greatly reduced. Major Johnson knows how to buy cheap and asks but a living profit upon what he sells. †

A match game of base ball was played between the Alert of McConnellstown, and Eagle of Dudley, at Saxton, on Saturday, October 19. Score:—Alert 44, Eagle 26.

If the weather is favorable the Alert think of making a tour to Altoona the first Friday in November, and on returning play the champion club of Tyrone city. Hope some one will inform us by letter the name of Tyrone club. The P. R. R. Co. has granted excursion to ten members; hope they will reconsider and grant to at least twelve or fifteen, as we expect lively games and will need extra men. 1st B.

Thanks.

All who so generously assisted us in making arrangements, or provisions for the Festival; and all who so kindly patronized the same, will please accept the warmest thanks of Pastor and people. Rev. J. J. KERR,
Pastor, St. James E. L. Cong.

—Supt. Tussey will hold an examination of teachers at Petersburg on Saturday next.

Tribute of Respect.

At the regular meeting of the Standing Stone Lodge, No. 85, I. O. of G. T., held Oct. 8th, 1867, a committee of three was appointed to report resolutions expressive of the sentiment of the Lodge, relative to the death of Joseph Gibson. The following were reported and adopted:

WHEREAS, In the dispensation of his all wise Providence it has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our beloved brother JOSEPH GIBSON, in the bloom of youth, thus reminding us that we too are passing away; therefore,

Resolved, That we the members of Standing Stone Lodge, No 85, I. O. of G. T., bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well, being assured that our loss is our brother's eternal gain.

Also, That the relatives of the deceased have our unfeigned sympathy in this the hour of their deep and heartrending affliction, and that we will invoke the sustaining Grace of God in their behalf, in this the hour of their sad bereavement.

Also, That the regalia and room of the Lodge be draped in mourning for thirty days.

Also, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and that they be published in the Huntingdon and Bedford papers.

CALL AND SEE.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebel acts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your fathers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. Store on South-east corner of the Diamond, Huntingdon, Pa.

BEALE'S

Late Powell's Embrocation,

For all Diseases Incident to HORSES, CATTLE, and the HUMAN FLESH, Requiring the use of an External Application.

This new Compound, prepared by a practical Chemist having a full knowledge of all the medical virtues of each ingredient that enters into its composition, is warranted to exceed anything of the kind ever yet offered to the Public as an external application for the diseases for which it is recommended. We are satisfied that it will work its own road into the confidence of all who use it, and those who try it once will never be without it, and therefore we rely on experience as the best test of its worthiness. It is pronounced by Farriers, and all who have tried it to be the best application ever used. This Embrocation has been put up for over eight years, and it is only through the increasing demand and urgent request of my friends and the Public that I send it forth as the grand remedial agent for the various diseases to which that noble and useful animal, the horse, is subject

Many remedies have been offered to the Public under different forms, some of these are injurious, others at best of little use, and many wholly improper to answer the purposes for which they are recommended.

A judicious and really useful composition, free from these objections, has therefore long been desired by many gentlemen who have valuable horses, and are unwilling to trust them to the care of designing and pretended Farriers. Their wishes are at length fully gratified, by Dr. Beale being prevailed upon to allow this valuable Embrocation (which has proved so efficacious to the various diseases) to be prepared and brought out to the public.

This Embrocation was extensively used by the Government during the war.

PROF. H. M'ENTYRE'S GREAT REMEDY,

THE

INDIAN COMPOUND

Internal and External Medicine,

WILL CURE:

☞ Diarrhœa, Bloody Flux in one day,
☞ Headache and Earache in three minutes.
☞ Toothache in one minute.
☞ Neuralgia in five minutes,
☞ Spasms in twenty minutes,
☞ Sore Throat in ten minutes,
☞ Cholic and Cramp in five minutes,
☞ Rheumatism in one day,
☞ Pain in the Back or Side in ten minutes,
☞ Bad Coughs or Colds in one day,
☞ Fever and Ague in one day.
☞ Cures Deafness, Asthma, Piles,
☞ Bronchitis Affections, Dyspepsia,
☞ Inflammation of the Kidneys, Erysipelas,
☞ Liver Complaint and Palpitation of the Heart.

Keep it in your Families—Sickness comes when least expected.

I propose to check, and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other methods of medical aid in the same space of time.

THIS POPULAR REMEDY is fast coming into use, for the fact that I cure, free of charge, all those complaints whenever there is an opportunity to do so. As soon as it is applied it almost miraculously kills the pain. I do not ask you to buy before you are certain of its efficiency. If you have an achieve pain, it is warranted to do all it purports on the label.

I do not propose to cure every disease—only a class named by my directions. My liniment operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore applicable, to the cure or natural restorative of all organic derangement arising from an improper circulation of the nerve vital fluids.

Prof. J. H. McEntyre's INDIAN COMPOUND acts directly on the absorbents, reducing glandular and other swellings in incredible short time, without any possible danger from its use under any possible circumstances.

This is an internal and external medicine—composed of roots, herbs and barks, such as our forefathers used.—There is a bountiful supply on earth to cure all complaints if we only knew what they were.

This has been a great study with the Medical Faculty, for many years, to find out the kinds best adapted to the above complaints—how to put them together, and what proportions to use. J. H. McENTYRE,
